

PhD Vlog Introduction: Katherine MacKenzie Transcript

TIME	SPEAKER	DIALOGUE
00:00:06	Katherine	Hi, I'm Katherine MacKenzie and I'm a second year PhD student in the Department of Clinical Genetics in Erasmus Medical Centre in Rotterdam. So I moved from the UK to the Netherlands about a year and a half ago. This is the Erasmus Medical Centre and that's where my office is, on the ninth floor with a good view of the park. Over the next month, I'm going to be blogging for Jobs dot A C dot UK, about life in the Netherlands, about being a Biomedical PhD Student and the kind of workload, the highs and lows of being away from home and the differences between the Netherlands PhD system and the UK. Hopefully over the next month you'll learn a lot more about me and about the process and yeah, I look forward to talking to you guys more.
00:00:30

END OF TRANSCRIPT